DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-3 and 11, drawn to a slip promoting additive system for polyester polymers, classified in class 524, subclass 532.
  - II. Claims 4-9, drawn to methods for reducing static friction between molded PET articles and for molding a PET article having a reduced sticking effect, classified in class 264, subclass 300.
  - III. Claim 10, drawn to a PET molded article, classified in class 428, subclass 35.7.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions of Group I and Group II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product such as a process for coating a cable with a PET layer by spraying to product a cable with reduced static friction.

Inventions of Group III and Group I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination claimed in claim 10 does not have the primary and secondary present in a ratio of 1:4 as required by the subcombination claimed in claim 1. Specifically, the primary and secondary antioxidants are present in a ratio of 1:3.5 (e.g., 0.08 wt%: 0.28 wt %) in the combination claimed in claim 10. The subcombination has separate utility such as an additive material for reducing static friction in a PET coating on a cable.

Art Unit: 1732

Inventions of Group II and Group III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process such as a process of forming a PET article by spray coating the composition comprising (i), (ii) and (iii) on a preformed PET article to form a reduced friction PET layer thereon.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Suzanne E. McDowell whose telephone number is (571) 272-1205. The examiner can normally be reached on M, W, Th 6:30-4.
